

Figure S11. scSig evolutionary trajectory analysis based on shared breakpoints.

The average number of shared breakpoints per cell within the sample is calculated, and cells are ranked according to the ratio of shared breakpoints. Cells with a higher ratio of shared breakpoints are positioned early in the clonal evolution, as subsequent subclones retain the breakpoints of earlier cells.